WEST LIBERTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, SEPT. 1, 1955

PLAYOFFS ARE POSTPONED AS LOCALS LOSE 6-1

Two Extra Games Needed to Decide 2nd Place Team

The Blue Grass League was thrown into a frenzy Sunday and the playoffs were delayed for another week when Beattyville downed Steve Hamilton and the West Liberty baseballers 6-1 at Beattyville.

Had West Liberty won, things would have been running as smooth as silk. But the defeat meant that at least two more games will have to be played before the playoff frolic gets under way.

Beattyville's victory means that a postponed game between the Beattyville and Irvine will be played next Sunday. And the winner of that contest will be tied with West Liberty for second place in the Eastern Division and will have a "sudden death" playoff Labor Day to see which team goes into the Eastern-Western championship playoff starting on Sept. 11.

Hamilton whiffed 14 Beattyville batters and gave up only six hits, but the safeties came in at opportune moments and sent West Liberty down to defeat. John Paul Jones and Jimmy Wade supplied the big blows, Jones getting a homer and Wade a double. Curt Hall was the winner.

While the Eastern Division was being turned topsy-turvy, Campbellsville tried its best to throw the Western Division wide open, too, but Eminence squeezed out a 4-3 victory in 10 innings to clinch a playoff berth with Harrodsburg as the Western representative.

Beattyville held the eighth inning frames, tallied twice in the fifth inning to nip Eastern Division winner Owensville, 2-1, in a well-played contest. Dickie LeMaster, who went the route for the winners, drove in the payoff run with a single. Rudy Bicknell opened the eighth with a double and scooted home on Rip Wilson's two-bagger. Wilson scored a few minutes later on LeMaster's blow.

The league bigwigs got their heads together at Lancaster Monday night in the office of League Secretary James Reeves and what came up with would confuse a Chinese detective.

The playoffs will start Sunday, despite a topsy-turvy situation, caused Sunday when Beattyville beat West Liberty.

Owensville, the Eastern Division winner, opposes unbeaten Harrodsburg on the latter's turf in the first of a two-of-three series.

That's simple enough. But here is where the dippy doings come in.

Irvine plays at Beattyville on Sunday and the winner of that game will oppose West Liberty a week from Sunday—Sept. 11—in a semi-playoff game. If Irvine wins, Irvine will play West Liberty at Beattyville. If Beattyville wins, the semi-playoff tilt will be played at Irvine.

The semi-playoff game will be a seven-inning tilt, starting at 12:30. The winner will meet Eminence that same afternoon in a regulation nine-inning contest, which—finally—will open the other playoff.

The second game of the latter playoff will be held at Eminence on Sept. 18.

In order to keep their players in shape, West Liberty will play an exhibition at Eminence Sunday. Of course, it could be a preview of the actual playoffs since West Liberty, banking on Steve Hamilton, will be a slight choice to reach the final playoff round.

More Than 200 At Homecoming Banquet And Dance Saturday

Winalee Gentry, Author of Book, Gets Key to City

Winalee Gentry
Named "Woman of the Year"

The West Liberty school homecoming was one of the best and most interesting held. Guests at the banquet numbered approximately 200 and about twice that number gathered in the auditorium to square dance.

President of the homecoming, Henry Seitz of Ashland, was unable to attend because of illness of his wife, and Mrs. C. K. Stacy presided as president pro tem and spoke the invocation preceding the dinner.

Dennie Nickell of Ashland, as toastmaster, kept banquet guests laughing with clever remarks.

Bernard E. Whitt gave an address of welcome, with a number of distinguished guests making the response.

A memorial poem paying tribute to former students and alumni who had passed away was written by Mrs. Nancy Turner and read by Walter Stamp.

A highlight of the banquet program was the recognition of Mrs. H. L. "Dux" Gentry, the former Winalee Moore, as West Liberty's "Woman of the Year." West Liberty Mayor Alvan Evans presented the key to the city to Mrs. Gentry. This honor was bestowed upon Mrs. Gentry, who now lives in Jackson, Michigan, for having written the book "One More River to Cross." Though the book is an exciting and rollicking account of Dux Gentry's pipeline construction business, it gives a thorough picture of West Liberty as it was a few years ago, and cites the fact that though being located in the fringe area of the Appalachian mountains, the town has always been noted for its Southern hospitality and culture.

In accepting the key to the city, Mrs. Gentry said it was "the happiest surprise of my life." The large gold-colored key was inscribed with blue lettering as follows: "1955—West Liberty Woman of the Year."

Preceding the key ceremony, Mrs. C. K. Stacy reminisced about Mrs. Gentry's school days in West Liberty and announced that the West Liberty Restaurant at Stamper's is taking advance orders for the book, which will be received in October.

The following officers were elected for the homecoming association:

Dr. Ralph Gullett, president, succeeding Henry Seitz.

Atty. Herbert L. Rose, vice president, succeeding Mrs. Harriet Baldwin.

Mrs. Gerald Amyx, secretary-treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Henry L. Stacy.

The out-going officers wish to thank Miss Floris Cox for her work in making many of the arrangements for this year's program.

Charles Barker and Kenneth Williams of Paintsville, did the calling for the square dance and brought along the string musicians.

The Bluegrass Council has a budget to be raised in October this year, for operation in 1956 of $69,000. This money is to be raised through Community Chests in six communities, including Frankfort, Cincinnati, Lexington, Danville, Paris and Versailles, plus independent finance campaigns in other communities throughout the Blue Grass Council where there are no chests.

This 1956 budget serves more than 8,000 Scouts and Scouters. All Scouts are to be sent in to a Council Treasurer, Ernest Clark of Lexington, who in turn disburses it for Council expense upon order of the Executive Board of the Blue Grass Council.

The personnel for all local camps, have been selected, and selected soon to call upon various families for a contribution to this budget.

During this year more than 3,000 men and boys have had a camping experience directly under Council programs.

Each Council maintains its own office staff and professional staff of men who give guidance to the 3 1/2 million boys and volunteer men and women currently registered in the program in the nation—community by community. A total of more than 24,000,000 people have had registered participation in Scouting in America alone.

The best citizens of America believe that the Scouting program has gone far toward keeping America free in thought and action through its character-building and citizenship influences for boys and men, Mr. Bennett said.

Chairman of the drive in Morgan county will be Alec Spencer.

WATERSHED MEET HELD AT GRASSY; PETITIONS OUT

By BERLYN BROWN

The Grassy Creek Watershed Association held its third meeting in five weeks last Tuesday at the Old Grassy Christian church at Mize. Present were Glen Oldfield, president; W. M. Wheeler, director, and Lon and Paris Stamper, L. W. Blankenship, Everett Nickell, W. Major Gardner and Berlyn Brown. The report of the preliminary field examination was read to the group and some facts about the Hope-Aiken Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act and questions and answers and suggestions were also presented to the farmers on printed cards supplied free gratis by the Licking Valley Courier, a copy of which appears in this article.

The group decided to make a canvass of the land-owners in the watershed and business and professional people in the county to determine their interest in the project.

Atty. Major Gardner prepared twelve copies of a petition requesting a survey and plan be made of the needs, costs, and benefits of a watershed project on Grassy Creek.

Present Facts and Suggestions about the Hope-Aiken Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act—

1. It places responsibility in local organizations to initiate projects, adapt plans to local requirements, share in the costs and make provisions for the plan's application and maintenance.

2. Provides the basis for a program by which local groups can cooperate with and receive assistance from the Federal Government in solving flood prevention and water-management problems.

3. Federal help under the Act is available only to assist local organizations to plan and install needed water-management and flood prevention measures that cannot feasibly be installed under other current Federal conservation programs.

4. What about the needs, interests and minimum requirements of the people who live in the watershed? They initiate action. They participate in the development of the watershed work plan. They have the responsibility for seeing that the recommended program is in conformance with their wishes. They must acquire land, easements, or rights-of-way; assume an equitable share of the project cost; arrange for operation and maintenance and acquire necessary water rights.

5. How much will it cost me? Department of Agriculture agencies will use recognized techniques in making studies to determine costs and benefits of each proposed project to establish its economic soundness. If costs exceed the benefits the project will not be recommended. The nature and extent of local and other benefits will afford a means for determining an equitable sharing of costs between non-Federal and Federal sources of funds.

6. Who will benefit by carrying out a project of this type? The farmers, business, especially the ones in the watershed; business and professional people, the county and state as a whole.

7. How will I benefit? By prevention of destructive floods and erosion, by higher production and farm income and by having a better watershed in which to live.

8. What can I do? Explain program to your neighbor. Take full advantage of existing conservation programs provided by the Federal Government. Cooperate fully with your Soil Conservation District. Set up own individual objective to carry out whatever conservation practices are needed on your farm as soon as possible.

A TRIBUTE TO FLORISS SEITZ LAND

In every life and every organization there comes great sorrow; at the time it seems an overwhelming disaster. We know God has treasures in store for those whom He calls home to Himself, and death is the only door to His great treasure house.

We are all shocked and grieved over the loss of our dear friend, Floriss Seitz Land. God created all of us for His glory and when He sees fit, in His infinite wisdom, to bless those we love with rest from their labors, we should manifest the same faith.

Her stay with her family and friends was all too short. We cannot explain all the dealings of God with us. Our loss is His gain for God is not the God of the dead, but the living.

How well I recall the years—the happy years—we spent in Jenkins and McRoberts together and the monumental work she did there in music. She was one of my best friends. Someone has said our greatest wealth is our friends—but we never know the true value of a friend until we have lost them. She was loved by everyone and her cheery smile and friendly greetings will live on in our hearts.

May God comfort the hearts of her family in the loss of this one. There is a loving prayer that they will find strength and courage to go on as she would surely want them to.

We can only say Christ walks close by, saying quietly and softly, "Be of good cheer, I am here." May we all watch, wait and be faithful until the end, so that to each one of us the Lord may say, "Well done, enter thou into my joy."

Floriss has gone to her eternal reward but we feel assured the avenues of Heaven will be filled with music and the brightness of her smile. The fragrance of her life will live on with all of us who knew her.

HOW STOCKMEN WORK

Results of a survey of the work required to care for livestock were published by the Department of Agriculture at Washington. Measured in terms of $100 of production, milk cows required 62 man-hours. That means the same as one man working 62 hours to get $100 worth of milk. Next highest in the amount of work were chickens, which required 45 man-hours per $100 worth of eggs or chicken. Sheep required 27 man-hours per $100 of wool or meat; turkeys, 24 man-hours; hogs, 16 man-hours; beef cattle, 16 man-hours; and broilers, 12 man-hours per $100 worth of production.

STATE'S GREATEST NEED

(The Lexington Herald)

In making the reference to the good work that has been done under a number of Democratic administrations, The Herald would include the recent administration of Gov. Wetherby. In this administration the most notable achievement, in our opinion, has been the tremendous development of the state parks under the direction of Commissioner Henry Ward. The next most notable achievement has been the enactment of a whole series of laws dealing with the mentally ill.

Of course the enactment of the law for the Minimum Foundation for Education overshadows these other matters because of the size and effect of the problem of the public schools.

Kentucky's chief problems are economic, and the greatest needs are for more income for the people of the state and more revenue for the government. We do not subscribe to the theory from whomsoever it may come, that the state's present difficulties arise from situations caused by political squandering or ineptitude. We believe that Kentucky has a sound base on which to build its future.

VERY TIMELY

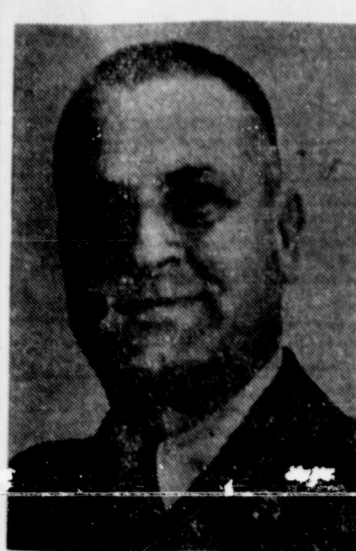

Lexington Herald

Long ago, The Herald, once having tried to be a peacemaker in a Democratic primary, only to find itself "in the middle," forewarned any such attempts in the future. Yet, in perusing a recent bulletin of the Frontier Nursing Association, we come upon an Elizabethan prayer of the 16th century, copied from a vicar's letter of more recent date in England. The prayer says:

"Most merciful and loving Father, we beseech Thee most humbly, with all our hearts to pour out upon our enemies with bountiful hands whatsoever things Thou knowest may do them good; and chiefly, a solid and unruptured mind through which they may know Thee and love Thee in true charity and with their whole heart, and love us Thy children for Thy sake. Let not their first hating of us turn to harm, seeing that we can not do them good for lack of ability. Lord, we desire their amendment and our own. Separate them not from us by punishing them but join and knit them to us by Thy favorable dealing with them. And, seeing we all be ordained citizens of the one everlasting city, let us begin to enter into that way here already by mutual love, which may bring us right forth thither."

This had been clipped with the idea of publishing it immediately after the primary now under way. But why wait?

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

Last Sunday was a day to be remembered on the church calendar. The return of our pastor after a two weeks vacation, our choir in its place, and our fellowship with those whom we were so glad to have back to worship with us. Those who came for the Homecoming were our guests of honor for the fellowship dinner.

About 115 seemed to enjoy the good old-fashioned dinner of fried chicken, all kinds of vegetables, smiles, pie and cakes, homemade bread, beaten biscuits, and corn muffins. But best of all was the Christian fellowship. We will be looking for them next year.

Sunday evening, Sept. 4th, we will be fortunate in having Miss Karen Smith to bring the message and sing for us. She will visit both youth groups. Miss Smith has just returned from Jamaica and Puerto Rico where she visited our churches and mission schools. She is only 16 years old, an accomplished musician, and a member of the Hazel Green 55-56 graduating class.

We congratulate Elmer Anderson who recently graduated from Morehead College with distinction. Mr. Anderson is a deacon in the church, a Sunday school teacher and a member of our choir, also director of our pulpit band in the Morgan County high school.

On Friday evening our regular prayer service will be held with Mrs. H. W. Wells as leader.

The Ladies Aid will meet Sept. 1 at 2 o'clock fast week. During her visit here last week, Hazel Cox gave a much-appreciated gift to the Ladies Aid in memory of her mother who was a charter member of the Society.

At a meeting of the program committee consisting of Mrs. Stella Fannin, chairman, Mrs. Maude Perry and Mrs. Eva Nevius, plans were made for the Aid to base the next five months' programs on "Prayer: The Mightiest Force in the World," by Frank Lauback.

The next dinner meeting for the men of the church will be on Thursday, Sept. 9 at 6:30 slow time. Please give your name to Blaine Nickell or Miss Josephine McGuire.

It is good to know there is improvement in the condition of Mrs. Archie McClain. Mrs. Bernice Cox and Betty Jo Whitt.

Several went to Licking River Sunday afternoon and heard a wonderful sermon by Rev. Harlan Murphy. This service is held every fourth Sunday.

All services in the church will be on fast time until Monday, Sept. 5, when we go back to slow time.

YOUR CHILD AND YOUR SCHOOL

What shall become of Kentucky's children? The teachers of Kentucky are vitally concerned with this question. As the result they have published in newspapers throughout the state, a series of articles to point out to the people some of the good things actually going on in many of our Kentucky schools. These methods show that many of our schools are equipping our children to live in this modern world. It is hoped a better understanding has been created as to the importance of quality which is available in good Kentucky schools.

Many teachers are aware that if you educate a child in the way he should go, he will not depart therefrom. Therefore they are making an honest effort to train Kentucky's children to take their rightful places in the world.

However the Department of Classroom Teachers is well aware that all of our teachers are not fully awakened to the ways of preparing the child to live in the modern world. Therefore, the Department has written these articles, has conducted summer workshops at colleges in the state, and has held conferences throughout the educational districts. The purpose of these activities is to make it possible to apply our resources to the development of children and youth to face the world as free from errors of ignorance and prejudice as possible.

Kentucky people are not different from people of other states. We have a wonderful state, but it is a proven fact that our children will go all over the world—a highly competitive world. They need to be taught to cope with situations involving people educated in Michigan, Florida, England, Japan,—the whole wide world.

And yet many of our good teachers who could teach our own children to equal or excel those of other states are themselves going to the educational districts, untrained teachers are helping, for example, Ohio's children to become better educated than Kentucky's children. Your tax dollar is educating teachers in Kentucky to teach Ohio's children. Our state of Kentucky is being sapped dry of its teachers—who pays the penalty? Your children and the state of Kentucky whose economic status will shrink if its children cannot take their place in this demanding competitive world. The situation is serious, alarming, and approaching disaster.

Most Kentucky teachers are native born, love the state and like its people. Why, then, are so many leaving Kentucky? Too many pupils per teacher, few instructional supplies, and many other barriers which could be improved by adequate financing of public schools.

The future of Kentucky depends upon its children. The future of the children is dependent upon the cooperative effort of all the people of Kentucky!

School Fund Announced By State For 1955-1956

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 29.—The State education for education will be enough to provide only 67.3 per cent of the foundation program for schools passed by the 1954 General Assembly.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell Butler said that the fund, which provided 70 per cent of the program last year, totals $8,573,000. He announced distribution of it by counties.

The percentage drop this year is because the assessment of real property throughout Kentucky is down $6,000,000, while the census of children 6 to 18 has increased by 12,675.

It would take an additional $19,784,699 to finance the foundation program for the 1955-56 school year. Butler said in his report on the fund.

IF ELECTRIC POWER FAILS

If electric power for a home freezer should be interrupted, or the freezer fail to operate normally, do not open the cabinet, warn food specialists at the University of Kentucky. Food in a loaded cabinet will usually stay frozen two days, even in summer. If repairs cannot be made in that time, use dry ice to keep the food frozen, or remove the food to a commercial locker plant.

LIVING COST RISE

Cost of living rose to its highest peak in 1955 during July, increasing two-tenths of a percent mainly because of higher food costs. The July price index reached 114.7 percent of the 1947-48 average, the U. S. Labor Department reported Wednesday.

You've often read or heard references to savings as a "nest egg" for your future. The treasury Department reminds us that china nest eggs don't grow into chickens, whereas money put into series E savings Bonds can grow for nearly twenty years. And you can count your chickens before they are hatched: the cash values for each six months are guaranteed in advance by Uncle Sam.

Lees College Fall Term To Open 12th

The college year of 1955-56 gets underway Monday morning, Sept. 12, with the beginning of orientation activities for freshmen and other new students.

Returning sophomores will register on Tuesday, Sept. 13.

The college dormitories will be opened Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11, and the first meal in the dining room will be served that evening at 5:15.

In addition to the usual opening program, a number of interesting social "get acquainted" events are planned for the first week, ending with a gala "all college" party.

The new Van Meter Building is nearing completion and will be in use this fall. The building will provide an auditorium and gymnasium, music department, student union including snack bar, and a 30 by 60 foot room for physical education classes and general recreation. The gym is planned to seat 1500 persons, using telescopic seats. When not used for basketball games the large gym will provide two full practice courts. Provision is being made also for tennis, volleyball, badminton, and other games.

The number of early applications for admission has been greater this year than ever before, and a record enrollment is expected.

Students who plan to attend but have not yet made application should do so as quickly as possible. Those who wish to request scholarships, work or loans should arrange immediately to visit President Landolt at the college to complete arrangements or both parents should accompany students applying for financial aid.

Limited dormitory accommodations are still available. Send five dollars room reservation to the college office.

New students should arrange to have transcripts mailed to the college from the last school they attended.

Dormitory students should also bring bedclothing, including pillow, towels and soap.

Veterans of the armed services may attend under their G. I. educational benefits. Special provisions are made to assist veterans with their needs and problems. New veteran students are advised to visit the college office as early as possible to fill out necessary forms to receive educational benefits payments from the veterans administration.

People Can Do Anything!

Pike County people find new way to make money: STRAWBERRIES

Sometimes just one man—with an idea—can change the face of the whole countryside.

That's what happened in Pike County—Pike County which had always been primarily dependent on coal.

The man was Dr. W. F. Clarke, a Pike County physician, and he knew that coal wasn't the only good thing that comes out of the ground. He went to the County Agent and asked if Pike County's farming couldn't be expanded. It could, the County Agent said, but what Pike County people needed was an immediate cash crop.

They called a meeting. The 35 people who came did a lot. They agreed with Dr. Clarke and County Agent Manuel B. Arnett. They decided that strawberries were their best bet. They formed the Pike County Strawberry Growers Association. They elected Dr. Clarke president of the association.

Today more than 250 people in Pike County are growing and selling strawberries at a profit. Their berries are sold on the local market as well as in Huntington and Cincinnati. Dr. Clarke says in 1956 there will be enough berries produced to establish pick-up routes throughout the county. Growers then will pick berries one evening and have them on the Cincinnati markets the next morning.

Once the people decided to go into this project, they got help from agricultural authorities and marketing experts. They got help from other businessmen who could also profit from this new activity. Once they decided to act, they were not alone. Plans are now being made to produce other fresh vegetables for nearby markets. No one knows where it will stop. Most people don't think it ever will stop.

Thanks to one man's idea, things are beginning to look a lot better in Pike County.

Hazard man not content with one business so he starts a new one... Result: MORE MONEY, MORE JOBS

T. F. Reynolds could have stuck to just one business—The Reynolds Artificial Limb Company of Hazard. But a man with an idea is hard to hold down. And T. F. Reynolds had a good one.

He knew he could make another useful product. He knew there was a demand for it. So, this year he established the Reynolds Broom Manufacturing Company. It's a small company. As a matter of fact, both companies are small—providing jobs for 6 employees at the present. But they're growing, and other people are growing with them. That's what counts.

"Already all of the wholesale houses in the mountain section of Kentucky are handling our brooms," Mr. Reynolds says, "Our business is good and getting a lot better."

New money, new jobs in Hazard... that's the T. F. Reynolds story. Only one more thing. Mr. Reynolds uses about 25 tons of broomstraw a year—from Oklahoma. Broom handles—about 400 each week—come from Mississippi. He says he would rather buy these things locally if he could.

Anybody got an idea?

Ideas like these—once put to work—are helping this area. If you have such an idea, give it a chance to do some good. Tell it to the editor of this newspaper... or write to us, the Kentucky Power Company.

Eastern Kentucky will improve only as its people improve it—

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan
Brown Enjoy Trip In
Provinces of Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan R. Brown of Ashland recently returned from an extended tour in Canada. Enroute they visited Mrs. Brown's sister, Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Ratliff, of Ann Arbor, Mich. Important cities and provinces visited by the Browns included Montreal, City of Quebec, the capital of Canada, Ottawa, and Toronto.

Montreal is Canada's largest city with a Metropolitan population of almost two million. Here two-thirds of the people are French and about one-third are English—with 75 percent Catholics, and rarely does one see other races or colors. Quebec City has an astonishing population of 90 percent French and 95 percent are Catholic. Actually one feels he is much farther removed from the United States when he visits Quebec.

Outstanding was the five-day boat trip on the historical old St. Lawrence River, including a trip up the famous Saguenay River—deep into the Canadian wilds of St. John's Lake. Unbelievable pleasant weather existed in the rivers section. Of course it was difficult to talk to the French. The highway signs and streets of Quebec were printed in both French and English.

Another interesting place visited was the Toronto Fifth Convention of the World Convention of Christian Churches. The organization had its beginning in 1930 in Washington, D. C. and has had meetings in England, Australia and other places each five years.

It was however the Plains of Abraham, overlooking the famous old City of Quebec and the St. Lawrence River that unfolded history to one's eyes. No American who has ever studied or taught history in about the fifth and sixth grades could soon forget a visit where the famous battle of 200 years ago was staged.

The French and the English, were led by General Montcalm and the English by Gen. Wolfe. The outcome was a victory, as history tells, by Wolfe and the English. Guides are present to tell the story.

Porch Gone, New Roof On,
House Is 40 Years Younger

The cheerful, up-to-date suburban home above was once the drab 1910 house shown at right. Taking off the old-fashioned porch and adding attractive modern features, such as a new gray-blend asphalt roof, new ponderosa pine window units, and black wrought iron handrails, caused the transformation.

Removing a large old-fashioned porch can make a house of pre-World War I vintage at home in a modern community.

Before remodeling the 40-year-old house at right looked small and squat, and its dated look was emphasized by old-styled windows. The porch cast a shadow on the entrance and blocked daylight from the living room.

The porchless version (above) reveals the attractive basic proportions of the house and permits a bright, cheerful interior.

All windows were replaced. An attractive addition is the large multi-paned ponderosa pine picture window, which "invites" the outdoors into the living room and gives the passerby a glimpse of the cozy interior.

Re-roofing is almost always necessary in remodeling an old house, and today's roofing is available in a wide range of new colors that do a lot to give aging houses a young look. Here a light gray-blend asphalt roof is attractive in itself, and forms an attractive background for the white siding.

The yellow shutters on the second floor window emphasize the horizontal lines of the house, making the structure look lower and wider. The new paneled entrance door is carnation red.

of her life. Is it any wonder that David said, "The King's daughter is all glorious within; her clothing is of wrought gold."

She shall be brought unto the King in raimen of needle work. We believe she was surely given by the Grace of God the ability to be the most kind and loving mother, the most patient and faithful helpmate that we ever knew.

May God give grace to her dear husband and children to enable them to endure their loss and to fully realize what a wonderful country Sweet Mother will be enjoying throughout endless ages.

NOTICE TO VOTERS
The registration books are now open at the county clerk's office and everyone who has not registered or has become of age or changed their voting precinct should come in at once and register or have the change made. This is important and I earnestly urge you to do so.

Many a farmer has the cash he needed to buy a new tractor or other farm equipment because he put the money away earlier in U. S. Savings Bonds. The average useful life of a tractor is around ten years. In that time $750 invested in E Bonds will grow into $1,000.

What, my friends, are we pursuing?
Or worth while that we are doing?
Is it self and not another?
We would help and so much rather?
Do our lives show we're desiring?
To be helpful and inspiring?
We might bring to folk a blessing
From what we are now possessing.

SCHOOL VISITS

By BERNARD E. WHITT Home Visits Planned

Meeting with Warren Robbins, Ford Foundation representative, Attendance Supervisor Elmer Anderson, Mrs. Ruth Conover, visiting teacher, Walton Jones, and myself, it was planned to work with a number of schools in making home visits in interest of better relationship between home and school.

On Wednesday, Aug. 7, Warren Robbins will teach the Straight Creek school until noon and Mrs. Conover and Meie Gevedon, the teacher, will visit homes. In the afternoon Mr. Robbins will teach Straight Creek and Mrs. Conover and Ailene Whitt, teacher, will visit homes. On the same day Elmer Anderson will teach Vance Fork school and Bernard E. Whitt and the teacher will visit homes in the forenoon. In the afternoon Bernard E. Whitt will teach Centerville school and Elmer Anderson and Mrs. Irene Terrill, teacher, will visit.

Purpose of the arrangement is to give the teacher an opportunity to visit with the parents and to have the school continue during the time the teacher visits.

Lick Branch

The school is being taught by Mrs. Ardenne Cooper of Carter City. This is her third year as a teacher. She has enrolled 11 pupils. There were only two pupils who have not enrolled. One boy, 14 years old, and one girl, 12. The teacher would like to have the county nurse visit them. They are also looking forward to the bookmobile's visit. They want the drinking water tested. The outbuildings need repair. They plan to take part in the county fair. Walton Jones, Ruth Conover and Elmer Anderson visited the school.

Lenox

Mary Pauline Walsh has taught other schools but this is her first time at Lenox. She has enrolled 13 pupils. All except one have perfect attendance. Walton Jones, Ruth Conover, Elmer Anderson and Walter Blevins have visited the school.

Mize

Gladys Nickell has taught the school here for several years. She has enrolled 23 pupils. Wanda Trent, the only 8th grade pupil, will attend Ezel school. They want the bookmobile to visit. Mrs. Nickell has never visited another school here but recently visited schools in Huntington, W. Va., where her brother teaches. She learned that once each year some business man or parent teaches one day to see what it is like. Mrs. Nickell thinks this would be a good plan in order for people other than teachers to see what a teacher has to do. She said recently a merchant said to her: that teaching was easy.

Salem

Mrs. Mildred Chaney has taught eight years at this school. She has 23 pupils enrolled. A new family, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Dyer have moved to the district from Magoffin county. Several pupils from the school attended high school at West Liberty. Mrs. Chaney thinks that she would like to have someone from West Liberty or another school teach her school one day and let her observe. She thinks some plan of visitation or observation should be worked out and that it would help in service training. She attends college on Saturday.

Kentucky Business At Peace Time Top, Reports Magazine

Kentucky's industrial economy hit a peace-time peak the first six months in 1955, the Kentucky Business magazine reports in the September issue.

The publication, quoting figures compiled by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Department, shows in the first six months in this year: the greatest payroll increase, the largest number of new jobs, and more new industries than in any peace-time year in the State's history.

According to the KCC's Industrial Development Director, Jas. C. Zimmerman, Louisville, there are, as of June 30, 1955—44 new plants, 24 expanded plants, 6,290 new jobs in the new plants and 2,625 new jobs in the expanded plants. The total estimated annual payroll for new plants is $23,587,700 and $9,843,750 for expanded plants. "Together," Zimmerman said, "this totals 68 new and expanded plants, 8,915 new jobs, $33,431,250 in new payroll, and $124,677,000 in plant investment."

Commenting on this tremendous industrial record, Rexford S. Blazer, Ashland, President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, said "the strength in Kentucky's industrial economy certainly can be credited to the far-sighted citizens of our State who have worked shoulder to shoulder in order to fulfill a vision—a vision of higher standards of living, more income per family, better education facilities, and an all-in-all better place to live. The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce is proud of its contribution as we have endeavored to pull all forces together in a united effort to build and strengthen our economy."

The Okolona Homemakers Club of Jefferson county increased its treasury by $175 when the members held a hobby sale of articles they had made.
